From Furnace to Battleship

In industrial centres all over Britain, armaments are being forged for Britain's great war effort. Here forging for a battleship.

Rev. A. D. Richard, B.A.

Now in charge of the Wainwright United church and the parish connected therewith, is the Rev. A. D. Richard, B.A., formerly of Westmount church in Edmonton for the past 12 years.

At the induction service which took place in the church on Wednesday evening last, the Rev. H. G. Lester, of Viking, took charge of the ceremonies, assisted by Rev. H. Morrison, of Edgerton.

Following the ritualistic portion of the proceedings, a reception for the new minister and Mrs. Richard was held, with a nice number of the members and adherents of the church in attendance, and refreshments were served by the church ladies before dispersal.

Wainwright Nonagenarian Passes to His Reward

There passed away on Saturday morning last, after only a couple of days' illness, one of the town's first settlers, and one of Alberta's oldest residents, in the person of Mr. Thomas John, at the age of 97 years.

The late Mr. John, who was born in Devonshire, England, in 1843, came to Canada with his first wife at the age of 25 years, and they resided in the settlement which has since become Manitowish, Manitoba.

Coming further west they reached Wainwright 31 years ago and the deceased has continued in residence here ever since. His first wife predeceased him in 1914, and in August 1916 he married Mrs. Amelia Ann Craig. There has been no issue in either family and so far as can be ascertained no blood relatives survive.

Until the past few years Mr. John was well able to "do his day's work with the smartest" and only of late years has he required glasses to enjoy his greatest pleasure—reading his Old Country newspapers—of which he would remind to his friends by the hour. Both he and Mrs. John have always been highly thought of by all with whom they came in contact in their long residence among us, and noted for their upright and honorable life in the community. Until two days before his death, Mr. John was down town daily to conduct his little business dealings, and to pass a cheery word to all and sundry.

THE FUNERAL was held on Monday afternoon, when, with Messrs. Wilson, Stinet, Washburn, Gehring, Williams and Cardell acting as pall-bearers, the service was conducted at the Wainwright United Church by the pastor, Rev. A. D. Richard, B.A., before a large congregation. Several favorite hymns of the deceased were included in the service.

Interment was made in Wainwright cemetery, McLeod's parlors being in charge of arrangements.

CARD OF THANKS

To all the kind friends and neighbors who assisted me in any way during my sad bereavement by the passing of the late Mr. Thomas John, I wish to express my deep and heartfelt thanks.

WEDDING BELLS

STANLEY-GROVES

The Rev. C. H. Morrison officiated at the Edgerton United Church on Friday, July 5th, when Sylvia Irene Groves became the bride of Norman E. Stanley at an afternoon ceremony.

Turquoise sheer over rose taffeta was the bride's choice for her wedding gown, with navy hat, shoes and accessories.

Miss Eileen Pawsey, as bridesmaid, wore a delicate shell pink figured sheer dress and her accessories and hat were also in navy blue.

The groom was attended by his brother, Ross.

Many relatives and friends almost filled the church for the ceremony and at the conclusion the happy couple had to face a barrage of rice and confetti. Some 20 relatives and intimate friends of bride and groom partook of a delectable buffet lunch topped off with generous servings from a handsome three-tiered wedding cake.

Immediately after, the newly-weds left by car for a very brief honeymoon, with the hearty wishes of the wedding party still ringing in their ears. Here's wishing them both the very best that life can offer.

OGSTON-NELSON

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nils Nelson, on Ninth Avenue on Friday evening last, Rev. A. D. Richard, pastor of the United church in town, joined in holy matrimony Miss Karen Marie Nelson and Mr. Charles Ogston, both of Wainwright.

Following the ceremony, the happy couple left for a short honeymoon at the coast, after which they will take up residence in Edmonton.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD
HOLDS SPECIAL MEET

At a special meeting of the Board of the Wainwright public school held last week, when all members were in attendance, appointments to fill vacancies on the staff for the coming term were made as follows: To the public school, Mr. Kenneth Hutchison; to the high school, Miss Marjorie Bagnall, B.A.

The schools will re-open for the fall term on September 3rd.

The work of air-conditioning of the big school premises was reported as being well under way, and the contract for alterations and additions to the electric wiring and lighting systems was awarded to Mr. E. Turner, of town.

Star's Bicycle Contest

With school exams and sports days a thing of the past, and with full time to devote to bettering their standing in The Star's Bicycle Contest, contestants are evidently getting up steam for a final sprint in an effort to capture the bike or one of the other big prizes. This week saw several changes in the standing as Parker Currie, tied last week with Amos Church (who failed to better his position) went out in the lead with an even 1,100 points.

William Carrell moved ahead of Harvey Hamilton and took possession of third place with a total of 750 points, 100 behind the second place contestant and 350 below the leader. There is still plenty of room for action in the girls' contest, as the West Sisters did not better their standing, counting only 200 points each. Here's the standing to date, but we expect big changes before our next issue:

Parker Currie 1100
Amos Church 850
William Carrell 750
Harvey Hamilton 650
Robert Street 450
Connie Wear 260
Elsie Wear 250

Remember, boys and girls, only three more weeks after today before some highly winner rides away on the C.C.M. Special Roadster which has been on display in Washburn's Hardware. Will it be you?

The C.C.M. Special Roadster Bike, which is the major prize of the contest, is now on display at The Star office.

Mr. A. Currie returned Monday night from his visit to relatives at Round Hill.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Ted Goddard is still a patient at the hospital, after a sick spell at his home. His many friends will wish him quick restoration to health.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all kind friends and neighbors and also the pall-bearers and those who provided cars, for their many acts of kindness during the sickness and passing away of our dearly loved daughter; and also for the beautiful floral tributes of respect and esteem.

Ford of Canada Pres. Explains War Stand

Windsor, Ont.—"At the outbreak of war I assured the Canadian government that Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, would make all its facilities available for the production of essential war supplies. We have done that. I re-affirmed the Ford position in Canada in a telegram to Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply," said Wallace R. Campbell, president of the Canadian Ford organization.

"All the facilities, resources, manpower and equipment of the Canadian Ford Company and the overseas affiliated Ford companies in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India and Malaya are now making, and have been making, every possible contribution to the defense of the British Empire and the successful prosecution of the war," said Mr. Campbell.

On receiving reports of the debate on Ford in the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Campbell discussed the matter with Henry Ford personally.

"Mr. Ford realizes fully that all industrial resources of a nation at war automatically become available in the defense of the country in which they are located. In his statement to the press last night, Mr. Ford said that Ford companies in the British Empire are serving their people as they should do," Mr. Campbell said.

Mr. Campbell explained that the Canadian Ford plant is particularly well fitted for the production of the mechanical motorized transport used so extensively by modern armies.

"Even before war was declared, on request of the Canadian government we laid the ground work for military production. Since beginning of the war nothing has been left undone to produce as quickly as possible equipment specified by the government."

"More than 50 per cent. of the production in our Windsor plant consists of vehicles for military use. This percentage is rapidly increasing. We are supplying the British Empire with a total of approximately 25,000 of these units. Of this total nearly 10,000 are for the Canadian government and 25,000 are for use by other Empire countries such as South Africa, Australia and India," Mr. Campbell said.

He also revealed that the Canadian plant is being rapidly tooled for the production of Universal machine gun carriers. These will be supplied to the Canadian Government at the rate of 50 a week when production gets into full swing within the next few months.

"We have a number of men with special training and qualifications useful to the government in war work. These men are working with the Department of National Defence in Ottawa and in England," Mr. Campbell revealed.

"At this time I believe the Canadian people are interested in knowing the extent of Ford military production," said Mr. Campbell, and he listed the various types of equipment now being manufactured in the Canadian Ford plant.

Military vehicles made by Ford include: Light two-wheel drive trucks, known as 8-cwt., which are used for carrying light stores, personnel or wireless sets; 15-cwt. units, used as anti-tank gun tractors, water tank carriers, and to transport heavier loads, personnel, etc.; 30-cwt. four-wheel drive, used as load carriers; three-ton units for heavy loads, for workshops, for wrecking equipment, etc.; four-wheel drive gun tractors used to haul artillery, ambulances, as well as regular passenger cars and station wagons specially fitted and painted for army purposes.

Ford engineers in the Windsor plant have contributed substantially to the design of these army type vehicles. "We have equipped our plant with the additional tools and dies necessary for the production of these vehicles and we have installed much special machinery. We have more than 7,000 men at work in our plant," Mr. Campbell said.

"War orders take priority over all the production in our plant," said Mr. Campbell.

As an indication of the dispatch with which war orders are handled by the Canadian Ford company, Mr. Campbell revealed that on May 1 a cable was received from an overseas Empire country inquiring how long it would take to ship them 8,000 trucks for military use. The immediate reply was a start would be made in three weeks. The company undertook to build and start shipping these trucks at the rate of 100 a day, the first 100 units to be delivered within three weeks and another 100 each day thereafter.

A STATEMENT ON FORD WAR WORK IN CANADA

This Company is in the war to the full limit of its resources. Until the British Empire is victorious, until the battle for freedom of nations and liberty of peoples is won, we have pledged all the vast manufacturing facilities of our Canadian and overseas affiliated companies to the service of the Empire.

We regard this to be our simple duty as a Canadian institution, one of the industrial resources of the Dominion. The 8,400 employees in our plants as well as our widespread dealer and service organization from coast to coast are Canadian. The Company's shareholders include a large proportion of Canadian investors. No one individual, family or company has a majority control of our shares.

For these reasons, aside from our deep feeling of loyalty to the Empire and its high purposes, it is fitting that Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited should give wholehearted support to the national war effort. From the very beginning this has been our course. Even before war was declared, in co-operation with officers of the Department of National Defence, we laid in our plants the groundwork of military production. Since conflict became a reality we have given war orders precedence over everything else. More than fifty per cent of our production is in vehicles for military use and this percentage is increasing rapidly.

We are now engaged in supplying approximately 35,000 motorized vehicles of many types, of which 10,000 are for the Canadian government and 25,000 for other Empire governments.

We are constructing at our own expense a $700,000

Statement in Parliament by the Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply

"The president of the Canadian Company has shown perhaps as keen a desire to assist in Canada's war effort as any citizen of this Dominion has done. His corporation since the outbreak of the war has done and is doing very important work for Canada's war effort, in the way of building motor transports and Universal carriers. The company has placed itself entirely in the hands of the government as to the terms of the contract which it has had."

"A contract, providing for a fixed price as low as we could find any basis for asking, was worked out; an overriding provision was inserted that the books of the company would be audited and if the stipulated price produced a profit more than a very low percentage indeed, that price would be scaled down accordingly. In other words, the work of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, its attitude toward the war, and its ability to assist in Canada's war effort, have been so far as I have been able to observe, beyond criticism."

Statement in Senate by Senator Raoul Dandurand, Government Leader in the Senate

"Ford Motor Company of Canada is doing its utmost to serve the interests of the country, the War Supply Board and the Government."

Statement in the Senate by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative Leader in the Senate

"They (Ford dealers in Canada) are numbered in the hundreds. And the number of employees of these dealers is very large. The ramifications are tremendous. For all the purposes concerning us, the Company is a Canadian concern, and I can add to the assurance given by the honourable leader of the House my own feeling that there are no better Canadians than those at the head of the Ford Motor Company of Canada and throughout that Company's organization. They will assist us to the utmost in our war work."

Women's Auxiliary Motor Service

Early in the war the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, organized free training courses for women in the care and operation of motor vehicles for possible war service. 284 such classes have been conducted, with an enrolment of 7,345. The number who have completed the eight-week course is 3,473, with 2,616 now under instruction. 1,214 enrolled in new classes about to start. All instruction and equipment has been furnished by Ford dealers and the Company without charge.

Types of Motorized Vehicles for Military Use Being Made by Ford Motor Company of Canada

The Company is engaged in manufacturing 35,000 motorized vehicles for Canadian and overseas governments. They include light two-wheel drive trucks, known as 8-cwt., which are used for carrying light stores, personnel or wireless sets; 15-cwt. units, used to transport heavier loads, personnel, as anti-tank gun tractors, water tank carriers, etc.; 30-cwt. four-wheel drive, used as load carriers; three-ton four and six wheels, for heavy loads, for workshops, for wrecking equipment, etc.; four-wheel drive gun tractors used to haul artillery, as well as ambulances and regular passenger cars and station wagons specially fitted and painted for army purposes. Present schedule of deliveries of these military vehicles constitutes more than 50 per cent of the Company's production. The plant is working day and night.

IMPORTANCE OF ORGANIC MATTER IN SOILS

Although by far the greatest fraction of an ordinary mineral soil is derived from the weathering of rocks, decomposition of organic matter is not constitutive a soil, states J. H. Atkinson, Division of Chemistry, Dominion Experimental Farms Service. The presence of organic matter is necessary in order that this mineral matter may become a soil and grow crops successfully.

Most of the soil organic matter is derived from growing plants, but some of it also comes from decomposing animal remains. In the decomposition of these materials complex chemical reactions take place which not only give simple compounds such as ammonia and carbon dioxide but also bring about the accumulation of a complex material commonly known as humus.

Soils containing less than 3 per cent of organic matter are considered to be low in that constituent; those containing around 10 per cent are very well supplied. The so-called organic soils, mucks and peats, have very much higher quantities of organic matter, varying from 20 per cent to 80 per cent or more.

It has been observed that soils well supplied with organic matter are more fertile than those of low organic matter content. This constituent has a number of very important functions in the soil. One of these is as a storehouse for certain plant nutrients, particularly nitrogen. The decomposition of soil organic matter is more fertile than those of low organic matter content. This constituent has a number of very important functions in the soil. One of these is as a storehouse for certain plant nutrients, particularly nitrogen. The decomposition of soil organic matter is more fertile than those of low organic matter content.

Organic matter is commonly added to cultivated soil either in the form of manure, or by the ploughing under of a growing crop, a process which is known as green manuring. The latter practice not only returns to the soil the nutrients taken up by the growing crop but also enriches the soil with humus-forming material. If the crop being ploughed under is a legume, it is also possible that considerable nitrogen which has been obtained from the air by the legume is added to the available nitrogen supply of the soil. The application of barnyard manure also adds organic matter to the soil and considerable plant food, especially nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, and in addition, it increases the active bacterial population of the soil, the benefits of which have been pointed out above.

Organic matter in soils also improves their physical condition. On clay soils it has a loosening effect, giving better drainage and aeration. On sandy soils, it tends to bind the particles together due to its greater cohesive power than that of sand. It also increases the water-holding capacity of the soil, a factor that is important in districts of low rainfall. In general, it improves tilth and thus facilitates drainage, root extension and bacterial activity.

The effect of organic matter on the physical condition of the soil is so marked that it is claimed that the presence of 15 per cent to 20 per cent of organic matter almost completely removes the distinctions between sands, loams and clays.

Pasture provides the cheapest food available for milk production, and it is highly desirable to provide cows with an abundance of fresh green herbage as long as possible throughout the pasture season. Early grazing helps to accomplish this. C. D. MacKenzie, Division of Animal Husbandry, Dominion Experimental Farms Service, also suggests practicing rotational grazing, using annual pasture crops such as oats and sudan grass, and providing the cows with aftermath from part of the area used for hay. Also, silage and molasses crops can often be used to supplement the regular pastures, particularly during the latter part of summer.

On good pasture cows giving from 30 to 35 pounds of milk daily need very little grain. However, cows giving over this amount require one pound of meal for each three pounds of milk produced above it. As young growing grass is high in protein, a meal mixture composed of home-grown grains such as oats and barley is satisfactory. With more mature grasses, however, it is advisable to add a small amount of linseed oil meal or ground soybeans to the home-grown grains in order to properly balance the ration. In addition, sufficient water, a supply of salt and a mineral mixture should be supplied, taking care that the cows have shade and protection from flies.

The Canadian War Effort

A weekly review of the developments along the home front.

Finance. Drastic taxation induced by the swifter timing of Canada's war plans and program is imposed under the budget requirements detailed by Hon. J. L. Ridd, Minister of Finance, this week. This taxation has been drafted with three special secondary purposes in mind, these converging in the general objective of paying as much for the requirements of war as the country can afford out of income, and borrowing as little as possible.

To accomplish the first of these special objectives, that is to prevent the unnecessary importation of luxury goods, this with a view to conserving foreign exchange as well as raising revenue, import taxes are levied. These are strictly on those of tax of 10 per cent on all imports from non-empire countries. This War Exchange Tax, as it is called, is fixed on the value for duty. Secondly, a graduated tax on automobiles imposed from 10 per cent on those of a manufacturer's price value of $700.

| On bases of former tax structure | Excise Duties | Auto Excise Tax | War Exchange Tax | Sales Tax | Other Excise Taxes | Income Taxes | National Defence Tax | Excess Profits Tax | Bank Note and Insurance Taxes | Non-Tax Revenue, Post Office, Interest, etc. | Total |
| 132,000 | 83,000 | 3,500 | 65,000 | 170,000 | 30,000 | 166,000 | 35,000 | 100,000 | 2,000 | 67,000 | 650,000 |
| 280,100 | 18,600 | 3,500 | 65,000 | 170,000 | 30,000 | 166,000 | 35,000 | 100,000 | 2,000 | 67,000 | 650,000 | up to 80 per cent on those of a manufacturer's price value in excess of $1,200.

Large increases are announced in the rates of income tax. In addition a special levy known as The National Defence Tax of two per cent on all incomes in excess of $600 per annum and of 3 per cent on incomes of single persons in excess of $1,200, and 2 per cent on all incomes of married persons in excess of $1,200 was imposed. These taxes on income will not only provide the largest contribution of all forms of taxation to the National Treasury, but they will help to prevent an undue demand for non-essential commodities. Thereby the second of the special secondary objectives of the Minister is accomplished. These taxes will absorb part of the enlarged earning capacity of the country due to war time demands; they will prevent competition with the government in the factories of the country and will forestall inflationary prices which arise inevitably from sudden and large increments of wages, earnings and dividends.

Thirdly, the special design of the budget is to prevent anyone from profiting unduly by the unfortunate incidence of war. This is to be accomplished by means of the Excess Profits Tax. The former proposals for taxing war profit have been discarded. Under the proposed new measure there is embraced the general principle of a tax of 75 per cent on excess of profits in any taxable year over those earned in a base or standard period. In no case will the combined excess profits tax and corporate income tax be less than 30 per cent of a company's total profits. This tax is estimated to yield $100,000,000 in a full year.

Other measures designed to effect the general objective relate to additional taxes on tobacco and smokers' supplies, on radios, radio tubes, cameras and phonographs and on automobile tires and tubes.

In summarized form the approximate yield from taxation on the basis of the formerly existing tax structure and that from a full year's taxation under the new proposals are as follows (figures show represent thousands of dollars):

All of the additional revenue accruing from taxation will not be available this current fiscal year, but it will amount to $110,000,000 for such period and in the absence of any further changes, the whole amount will come into the accounts for the fiscal year beginning in April, 1941.

On the expenditure side of the national accounts the Finance Minister has estimated his requirements as: Non-military purposes $448,000,000 Military purposes 700,000,000

| Total | Add'l taxes est. yield one year | Total estimate est. yield of Collections |
|-----------------|---------------------------------|--|
| $1,148,000,000 | 18,600 | 132,000 |
| | 3,500 | 101,600 |
| | 65,000 | 3,500 |
| | 170,000 | 65,000 |
| | 30,000 | 170,000 |
| | 166,000 | 30,000 |
| | 35,000 | 224,000 |
| | 100,000 | 35,000 |
| | 2,000 | 100,000 |
| | 67,000 | 2,000 |
| | 67,000 | 67,000 |
| 280,100 | 18,600 | 650,000 |

$200,000,000 will be spent. Dependent upon the amount of this extra expenditure will be the total deficit which will have to be covered by borrowing. But it will not likely be less than $358,000,000 and may be $600,000,000.

Since the total national income for the year is computed to be $4,000,000,000 it can be realized that our total expenditure for war and general governmental purposes will approximate one-quarter of that sum, exclusive of the amounts required by the provinces and municipalities.

Such tariff changes as were proposed by the Minister were relatively unimportant. No Profiteering. To prevent any attempts at undue price raising consequent upon the new budget proposals, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has been charged with the duty of supervision. Manufacturers and others who attempt to take unfair advantage of the proposed taxes, particularly the 10 per cent import tax, may be summoned on complaint and themselves taxed, fined and have their prices fixed.

No Passports for Visitors. No passports will be required of United States citizens to Canada. This was settled definitely by the Prime Minister's announcement in reply to the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons. Steps had been taken, said the Prime Minister, to strengthen border control and the establishment of officers at points not previously manned, but all that would be necessary for persons coming to Canada would be to satisfy border officials they were United States citizens and were coming to Canada for legitimate purposes.

Labour Relations. Following on the definition of certain principles to govern the relations between employers and labour during the war, the Government by Order in Council has established a body known as "The National Labour Supply Council". This body is to be made up of five representatives of industry and five representatives of labour respectively. It will be headed by an impartial chairman appointed by the Minister of Labour. Duties for this Board as stated in the Order are "To advise on any matters touching Labour supply for industry which may be referred to it by the Minister of Labour".

Authority has been granted by the Department of National Defence for the formation of eleven territorial regiments into which will be grouped all rifle, machine gun and tank units of the C.A.S.F. and of the Non-Permanent Active Militia.

The object of the scheme, outlined by Honorable C. G. Power, Acting Minister of National Defence, is to give the opportunity to the Non-Permanent Active Militia units that have not been mobilized, to participate more actively in the national war effort and to furnish reinforcements to units overseas.

The territorial regiments will be known as follows: The Western Ontario Regiment, The Central Ontario Regiment, The Eastern Ontario Regiment, The Quebec Regiment, The Regiment of Quebec, The Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island Regiment, The Manitoba Regiment, The Saskatchewan Regiment, The Alberta Regiment and The British Columbia Regiment.

Under this new organization, all N.P.A.M. units will retain their identity and will continue to be known by their present title.

YOU AND YOUR TOWN

Are you satisfied with your home town? Are you proud to have your friends and relatives come from other towns to visit you and to take them about the town and show it off? This question is asked by the editor of the Raymond Recorder.

We have a good town, but it could be a lot better and we could all do a great deal to make it better. We are of the opinion that now, more than ever before with the conditions we are facing, it is our bounden duty as loyal citizens to do all we can to improve and strengthen the ties that bind us together as fellow townsmen. Suggestions have been made repeatedly for the improvement of the town, some of them are acted upon, most of them are just let go by. Some of them are feasible, many of them are not. At the same time advancement and progress should be the goal of every civic organization in the town, and some project to this end should be under operation constantly.

In the future we need a good drainage and sewage system for the town, which must be preceded by extensive and costly improvements in our water system. We know that all these things are common knowledge, but what are we going to do about it?

Under our present system of taxation (and we all feel we are paying plenty) these improvements will have to wait a long time, or else be financed by borrowings.

We could do with more industries in our midst. A creamery would furnish a couple of hundred families in the district with a small cash income each time they made a delivery of cream, and believe it or not, these two and three dollar cream checks every day or so mount up fast. Right now a little more ready cash would be a great boon to our storekeepers, who find it plenty tough to finance when so many customers are saying, "charge it, please." Districts which have creameries do appreciate them.

Then, too, we've to increase our loyalty to our town and its business men it would help to improve tax collections, would put more people to work, would mean more and better houses and when good houses are built, medicine and maintenance, sewage and drainage become a crying need and property owners will co-operate to the full to have this convenience.

We have said frequently in these columns, and we repeat, that we have the finest potentialities of almost any town in the West, and yet, because of our "let George do it" attitude we watch shanties grow instead of substantial homes; we wade through mud knee-deep in stormy weather instead of having good walks and drives, and we turn back to the lack of accomplishment civically in our town, and yet if we would turn the full searchlight of truth on ourselves, we are possibly one of the biggest reasons why things are as they are and why they stay as they are.

We have a Board of Trade, most of us pay our dues and forget about it and a few men run it and are responsible for the accomplishments that are made. What a Board of Trade with a couple of hundred active members could accomplish can only be guessed at because we have never united enough to do it. Most of us have lots of wishbone and little backbone, and we sigh and say we wish we had this and that, but we do nothing to obtain it. A few civic martyrs can do quite a lot but even such valuable characters get tired of doing alone and stop laying down on the job. Let's come to life and if we want some of these improvements let's unite in going after them and not act by and expect someone else to do all the work and then let us in on the dividends.

A LICKING FOR HITLER

Hitler and his bloody gangsters are in for a tremendous lick from every nook and corner of the Dominion—and Canadians everywhere are going to enjoy themselves as they fall in the process of applying the licks.

The cry has gone out, "Stamp Out Hitler with War Savings Stamps" and the licking of the stamps is being encouraged in a nation-wide drive which has been launched by the entire motion picture industry of this country to promote the purchase of the 25c stamps to aid the government in its war effort at this critical hour. The feature of this campaign is a gala performance in all theatres, large and small, on Monday evening, July 15, which will be the first of a series of the absurd word, providing—here is the one and only catch—each patron purchases at least two of the 25c War Savings Stamps from a theatre in exchange for a complimentary admission ticket.

This unusual patriotic opportunity permits every person to support Canada's war effort, make a profit on the savings stamps, which are retained by the purchaser of course, and enjoy a good show at the same time. The Federal Government is getting very much out of this campaign through its own agencies, and the theatre proprietors and film distributors are paying the full cost of the campaign including all expenses for the performances, as their contribution to the cause. Without question, it is a praiseworthy effort and one that deserves the active support of the whole community.

The "Win the War" Campaign of the Canadian Motion Picture Industry enjoys the endorsement of Dominion and Provincial Governments, the Lord's Day Alliance and many other patriotic and service organizations because it has been shown that the industry is providing substantial assistance to the war effort at its own expense. Generous response on the part of the public will complete the success of the truly gigantic undertaking, which is to raise $1,000,000 for the government all in one evening through the holding of shows which the people can enjoy to the limit without cost to the patrons.

Mr. E. Bell, who will take charge of the U.G.G. elevator here on August 1st, is moving over from McLaughlin and has rented the Walter Gray house in town.

Grass widowers and "camp bachelors" are reminded that meals are available at all hours at the Standard Pharmacy lunch counter. "Just like mother makes!"

Interesting News of the Week ...

TOTAL ANIMAL KILL GIVEN FEDERAL HOUSE

According to word from Ottawa, at the recent slaughter of surplus buffalo and other animals in western national parks 4,104 animals were killed, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons in answer to a question from R. H. McGregor. (Can. Press News).

At Wainwright Buffalo National Park, 2,918 buffalo, 113 moose, 1,506 elk and 242 deer were killed, while 18 buffalo were killed at Riding Mountain National Park and seven at the Prince Albert National Park.

A sum of $60,000 was realized from the sale of meat and hides at Buffalo National Park. The meat was sold to Canada Packers at $5.75 a hundredweight for choice quality, $4.75 for other good and top medium grades and $2.50 for aged and bony quality suitable only for processing.

All other meat was made available for Indian relief.

At Buffalo National Park 500 specially selected buffalo hides were reserved for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The contractor, Canada Packers, took the balance at $15.00 each, regardless of size or condition.

LIKELY COMPULSORY TRAINING NEXT MONTH

Ottawa, July 8th.—First call for draftees to be enlisted in Canada's non-permanent militia units under the Mobilization Act will go out in August. It is stated here, and if it can be arranged the first classes under the compulsory training scheme, comprising men between 20 and 27 years of age, will go into military camps now occupied by organizations of the Canadian Active Service Force.

The problem for employers will be to let these men off for a month in camp late this summer or early in the fall for their preliminary training. During the winter they will be required to do two evenings a week for drill and instruction.

The intention is to fill up the ranks of the existing non-permanent units, and to create reserve battalions of these units to take care of any overflow.

CHILDREN EVACUEES ARRIVING FROM U.S.

Montreal.—Heavy in their praise for a British sea-captain who brought them safely to Canadian shores through heavy seas on the north Atlantic, almost 200 evacuees from Great Britain arrived here Saturday by special train from Halifax.

More than 60 applications are being received daily at the office of T. R. Blaine, provincial superintendent of child welfare in Edmonton, from Alberta people offering to give homes to war evacuee children from Great Britain, it was reported Monday.

New regulations have been announced for persons giving homes to evacuees of relatives and friends in the British Isles. It is now not necessary for Canadians to report or make application to the immigration department. It is only necessary to write or cable the friend or relative in the Old Country, offering a home for the children. This written or cable offer may be taken by its recipient in Britain to the steamship office and the children will be allowed passage to Canada.

MOISTURE SITUATION SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

According to Beattie Precipitation Report No. 11, compiled from the records of 591 governmental and Seattle rain gauges, an improvement of 1 1/2% has taken place during the past week in the moisture situation for the Prairie Provinces as a unit. Weighting for wheat acreage and adding together the rains which fell last August, September and October (which form the reserve moisture available for this crop) and the rains which fell between April 1st and July 1st, the moisture condition of the three Prairie Provinces, as a unit, is now 80 per cent. of normal, as compared with 79 per cent. a week ago, and 116 per cent. at this time a year ago.

For Alberta alone the condition is now 86 per cent. of normal, which is exactly the same as last week, but which was 112 per cent. at this time a year ago.

Saskatchewan shows a decided improvement, being now 75 per cent. of normal, as compared with 73 per cent. last week and 115 per cent. at this time a year ago.

Manitoba shows a slight decline, now being 89 per cent. of normal, as compared with 90 per cent. last week and 89 per cent. at this time a year ago.

In Saskatchewan the improvement has taken place in Crop Districts 5, 6 and 8, but parts of central and northern Saskatchewan, and districts in the Regina Plains, still badly need moisture.

Areas in east central Alberta, too, are beginning to suffer and in Manitoba the north western area needs more rain.

PARLIAMENT LIKELY THROUGH SHORTLY

Ottawa.—Barring the unexpected, the adjournment of parliament is in sight. Within three weeks members of the war-time session which convened May 18 should be returning home with a brief but eventful session behind them.

Outstanding have been the conscription act and a budget which, already over the billion-dollar mark, threatens to go higher. An anomaly is that, on the grounds it was voted to usurp parliamentary rights, the conscription measure came in for better criticism than the budget, despite the fact that all members are for a stronger war effort and budgets are unpopular by tradition.

With the leaders of the opposition parties already having spoken their minds and no major point of criticism having been produced, the budget appears headed for an easy passage, carrying its heavy cargo of taxes unopposed.

OPPOSE ALTA. BANK VALIDITY ASSAILED

Ottawa.—Incorporation of an Alberta provincial bank on lines proposed by New Democracy members was opposed in the commons Tuesday by Finance Minister Ralston and Conservative Leader Hanson.

The Alberta Provincial Bank bill came up for second reading in the first private members' hour this session but was "talked out," discussion not having ended with the hour.

Provision of that hour for discussion of the bill was under an arrangement, promised by the prime minister, that if no motion in further time will be set aside for such discussion. If it is, under normal procedure, this bill would be on the bottom of the list, and it is quite possible it will not be considered again this session.

WOMEN WILL HELP IN HARVEST FIELDS

Ottawa, July 8.—Alberta farmers may see farmettes in overall this fall, assisting in harvesting operations and other farm chores.

Officials of the labor department state that if the week harvests a big crop this year, and there is every indication at present that this will be the case, there will be a definite shortage of farm labor and that women will have to take on the work.

A number of offers have been made already by groups of women to take up jobs in the field as well as in factories and driving trucks, and they will be called upon when the shortage of man-power becomes acute.

SKILLED LABOR IS NOW GETTING SHORTER

Ottawa, July 8.—Canada is facing an acute shortage of skilled labor in the near future, and classes in basic industrial trades, will be conducted without let-up during the summer months in technical schools throughout Canada to maintain a supply of skilled labor to staff aircraft and munitions plants. In Alberta technical schools are conducting classes in the near future, and it has become vital to the war effort on the industrial front.

The possibility of an acute shortage of skilled labor already exists, officials admit.

Labor officials have not received full returns on the number of trainees enrolled in classes starting this month, but the total will be between 7,000 and 10,000.

In the past year 100,000 wage earners have returned to jobs from relief rolls, and the army, air force and navy have taken 125,000 recruits in all branches proceeding steadily.

Another 200 splendid opera chairs have been added this week to the accommodation at the local Elton theatre and no doubt patrons will appreciate this.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. H. Kwanicki have purchased a fruit farm in B.C. and plan to move there shortly. Harry is to return to his job on the C.N.R. after the family are settled in their new home.

Miss Velma Ford, of Edmonton, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ford, at Heath.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Daniels left on Sunday last for Banff and Jasper. They will also attend the big fair at Calgary this week.

It is up to the public to help the authorities—and not hamper them by spreading foolish rumors. If anyone has information which they think the police should have, by all means tell them; but if it is just something told by Tom, Dick and Harry, find out who told them before passing on the story. Without doubt there are subversive elements working throughout Canada and through this very district and it is only helping them when you repeat and exaggerate rumors.

For the past week, the local C.O.L.T. group has been camping at a lake near Viking.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Rattray are now settled in their new home which they recently purchased from Mrs. Telford on Fourth Avenue east.

Not a cent of commutation is being paid to postmasters, banks, financial institutions and commercial organizations which are selling war savings certificates and war savings stamps to the public. Nor is there any public expenses involved in the work of the citizens who are organizing and sustaining these projects both at headquarters in Ottawa and others throughout the Dominion.

Leonard McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. McDonald, has the misfortune to break his arm on Monday and is now a patient at the local hospital.

Camille Gaulin left on Sunday night for his vacation to visit his uncle and grandmother at Monteville.

Mr. and Mrs. G. May, of North Battleford, who have been visiting their brother Phil May, in town, left for their home on Sunday last.

What Italy Gains From France

GOOD RAINS NEEDED MAINTAIN CROP PROSPECTS

In the Prairie Provinces crops on the whole have benefited from light to heavy rains. A large percentage of the wheat is in shot blade, with early sown fields heading out and coarse grains are growing well. The moisture conditions in Manitoba are satisfactory for the present. In Alberta and Saskatchewan, generally, good rains are needed to maintain present prospects, particularly in central and northern Saskatchewan and southern Alberta. Grasshoppers are prevalent and have caused serious damage in southeastern Alberta and southwestern Saskatchewan.

In Alberta, prospects continue favorable and recent warmer weather in northern districts should promote more rapid growth. Early sown wheat is in shot blade. Moisture conditions have been satisfactory but good general rains are now needed, particularly in southern Alberta. Grasshoppers continue active in the south-east and wireworms have caused slight damage in the Peace River district. Sugar beet crops are excellent. Pasture is satisfactory.

Light to heavy rains have fallen over most of Saskatchewan and the crops on the whole are advancing satisfactorily. Wheat is mostly in shot blade, with early sown grain on stubble land heading out short. In many districts moisture reserves are low and early heavy rains are needed, particularly in central and northern districts. Grasshoppers have caused considerable damage in the southwestern section.

Moderate to heavy rains have been beneficial and crops throughout Manitoba are developing well. Wheat stands are of even growth and are mostly in the shot blade; early sown fields are heading out. Coarse grains are progressing favorably. The growth of sugar beets is satisfactory; thinning is in progress. Pastures are in good condition.

WOMEN CAN HELP WHILE ON HOLIDAY

On their vacation trips this summer Alberta women can profitably use spare time, knitting shoulder shawls for convalescing Canadian soldiers in hospital. About 30 inches square, plain knitting, in bright colors and of any weight soft wool, they are easy to make.

Red Cross hospital visitors in England discovered the need for these shawls and notified Canadian Red Cross authorities. Knitting them is a pleasant odd-time job and fits in well as a vacation pastime. Send your finished work to your nearest Red Cross branch for shipment to England.

Members of the visitor committee in England are in contact with all hospitals to look after the comfort of every Canadian soldier admitted. If the patient is unable to do so himself, the visitor writes to his relatives in Canada, keeping them informed of his progress.

300 U.K. YOUNGSTERS ARRIVE AT MONTREAL

Montreal.—Montreal bade a welcome last week to several hundred children, sent from danger zones of Great Britain to the safety of Canada.

Most of the 300 youngsters who arrived here were accompanied by their mothers or governesses, but 91 of them, ranging in age from 16 months to 17 years, were unaccompanied.

Members of school parties left almost immediately for their affiliated schools in the Dominion. Others, expected to remain only overnight, to await arrival of relatives or friends to take them to their new homes.

A program of prison reform throughout the empire is being completed by the Colonial Penal Administration committee in London under chairmanship of Lord Dufferin.

GREENSHIELDS

Mrs. J. Sylvester is a visitor in the city for a few days.

Miss Muriel Hill went to Edmonton on Friday, where she has employment for a few weeks as checker at the departmental examinations.

Quite a number of residents of this district were enjoying the thrills and spills at the Car Stampede Thursday and Friday of last week.

We understand that Mr. T. Daniels is now driving a V8 sedan while Mr. J. Tilbury is the owner of the Chev. formerly owned by Mr. Daniels.

Plans are being made for a C.C.F. basket picnic at Greenshields Wednesday afternoon, July 10. Everyone welcome.

On Thursday, July 11, the regular Ladies' Aid meeting will be held in the hall. Final arrangements will be made for their picnic on Wednesday, July 17th, at House Lake.

Among the crowd at the Calgary Stampede this week will be Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Haywood, Mrs. E. Jackson and the Misses L. and E. Haywood and W. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. T. Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Tilbury and Mrs. and Miss Doris Daniels. On the return journey these folks expect to enjoy the mountain grandeur of Banff and Jasper.

Mrs. J. Somick and her daughters have gone to spend a holiday with relatives in Winnipeg and Ridgeville, Man.

Overheard in a town garage last week—one of our prominent citizens speaking: "I sure was glad after the crash near the hospital to find that the fellow who ran into me was a traveller, because their cars are always insured, and I know there would be no trouble about damages!" Keep your car insurance in good standing; it will be easier on your blood pressure, for it avoids arguments. Consult Joe Welch for rates and other information.

Here are some recent views of the new CBC Mobile Unit No. 3 and the personnel of the CBC Overseas Programme Unit now stationed in England. These men are responsible for the presentation of broadcasts of particular interest to Canadians, such as the weekly broadcast, "With the Troops in England" on Monday at 8:00 p.m. EDT and "English News Letter to Canada" on Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. EDT. In addition to these regular broadcasts, they have presented many other interesting programmes dealing with the activities of Canada's troops in Great Britain.

Arthur W. Holmes, upper left, is in charge of technical equipment and the new recording van. Flanking the CBC microphone are announcers Gerry Wilmut and Gerard Arthur. R. T. Bowman, upper right, is in charge of the CBC Overseas Programme Unit. The centre photograph is an interior view of the mobile unit showing recording turntables and control equipment. Lower left shows Bob Bowman with a group of officers and men of the C.A.S.F. during a broadcast from Beaver Club in London. The sturdy mobile unit is shown in lower centre. Lower right is Albert E. Altherr, mobile unit engineer.

AMONG THE OLD-TIMERS

"REMINISCENCES OF OTHER DAYS"

TEN YEARS AGO

Mr. C. Coleman is having a screened-in veranda added to his property.

Miss Mary Fish has received an appointment to the Bank of Montreal in Chauvin and left on Sunday to commence her duties.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stinert and family and Mrs. Stinert, sr., have left to visit friends in their former home in St. Edmond.

Mrs. J. W. W. McPherson, Geo. Murray and J. Chynoweth are attending the school of agriculture at Vermilion this week. They are taking in the demonstration lectures as delegates of the local Women's Institute.

A sharp hail storm struck the Gilt Edge district last week and worked south to Heath, where it also did considerable damage.

Surveyors and landscape artists arrived in town this week preparatory to making a beauty spot of the Federal Building grounds.

Miss Pauline Viola Canning and Mr. LaVerne Winsor Treffery were married on Thursday at the United Church. Following the ceremony they left for their future home in the Grande Prairie district.

The funeral of the late Mr. W. H. Hallett was held last week. His death marked the passing of one of the oldest residents of the Edgerton district.

Mrs. A. G. Wheaton left this week to spend a holiday with her aged mother in Nova Scotia.

A large number attended the induction services of Rev. W. J. Huston, formerly of Innisfail, at the United Church on Friday evening.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Mr. A. Dupre is unloading his seventh carload of Chevrolet this week.

Miss M. Denny, who has resided here with relatives for many years, left on Monday for the Old Country where she will make her home.

Mr. W. Loudfoot left on Friday for a trip through the north country. Work is proceeding on the lots on Second avenue, where the new Dupre store garage is to be erected.

Miss N. Carroll, chief operator at the local telephone exchange, is leaving this week with her sister Beatrice for a holiday at the coast.

Mr. Phillip Springer passed away on Tuesday of last week. He had resided in Wainwright since the town first started 17 years ago.

Miss Florence Tury has obtained a position in Edmonton and is now residing there.

Another old timer in the person of Mr. Nils Dahlgren passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Nordstrom, Wednesday morning at the age of 71 years and 8 months.

EDGERTON

A large proportion of our townpeople took in the Wainwright Sports Day on July 1st and all seem to agree that it was a most enjoyable day.

Now everyone is looking forward to a repetition at Edgerton on Wednesday, July 17th, when a splendid program has been arranged for by the various committees in charge.

Alice Gilbert, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilbert, was rushed to Wainwright hospital in the early hours of Monday, July 1st, suffering from a ruptured appendix.

An immediate operation was performed, and it is understood that her condition was critical until last Saturday. We have it on very good authority that the young lady is now out of danger, and making fair progress.

Some thirty-five ladies and girls attended a shower for Irene Groves at the United Church on Tuesday evening, July 2nd. The guest of honor was the grateful recipient of a wonderful assortment of gifts. Some rather unusual contests and games provided considerable amusement for all present and a tasty lunch rounded out a very pleasant evening.

A large number of uninvited guests "crashed" the party and contrived to make themselves objectionable; being mosquitoes, they succeeded to a certain degree.

Mrs. and the Misses Harrington—mother and sisters of Mrs. C. H. Morrison—are visitors at the United Church Manse. The ladies motored up from Saskatoon the week before last and are proving very popular.

The garden party held Thursday last on the P. S. Pawsey grounds, and sponsored by the vestrymen of St. Mary's Church (Ang.), was quite a success, judging by the animated groups gathered around the various attractions, such as clock-golf, bingo, "Knock-down Hitler" and sundry other things. The food stall, too, was a very popular spot and although we should probably not mention the fact, we saw several very busy ladies more or less in the background, doing dish-washing and so on—which seems to indicate that the men cannot carry on alone. Plus galore, several of which we sampled, had us wondering. If the men concocted them, they can come and play chef to us any time they like.

Madame A. Royal left on the flyer early Sunday morning for an extended visit on the west coast.

Ralph Challenger motored to Saskatoon Friday last to bring his sister Irene and her children back to the farm for a few weeks' holiday. They returned Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. "Happy" Montgomery are holidaying in the States. We hear that both are having a simply marvellous time. So are we—just anticipating, that's all so far.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pawsey and infant son have moved into town for the balance of the summer, as it will be much more convenient for Harold, now that he is permanently employed as truck driver for the local creamery.

The local Red Cross Branch erected a "hot-dog-n'-cawfee" stand in a convenient spot for the late shoppers and dancers on Saturday evening last. We passed by several times—stopping once for a coffee, being averse to "dogs"—and they certainly seemed to be doing a brisk trade. It is understood that the organization is well pleased with the net result.

Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Kingston and Frank Mitchell motored out to the Neil Lacy farm for tennis on Sunday. While many on holiday, the town courts are practically deserted these days, much to the sorrow of the few remaining fans.

Ottawa.—Members of Canada's fighting forces now in the United Kingdom probably will be able to send mail back to Canada free of postage before long.

Negotiations are underway between the Canadian and British governments and some definite decision likely will be reached soon.

In the British House of Commons today, Postmaster General Morrison said he was communicating with the Dominion authorities respecting this free mail.

HISTORICAL BIOGRAPHY AT ELITE THEATRE

Variation of a dramatic formula, especially with the same personal constituents, is a perilous process. Only a great theme and the inspiration of greatness might save it from disaster. The greatness of Victoria and the epic grandeur of her reign obviously are mighty enough to stand the strain, and the magnificence and nobility of Herbert Wilcox's second Victoria film testify to that.

The picture, "Sixty Glorious Years" at the Elite this week end, though it varies the formula of "Victoria, the Great", is a production of which British and her studios can be proud, a magnificent spectacle, a studied chronicle of its era and a human document which poignantly traces the womanly life of Britain's great Queen. Technically, Wilcox's film with its superlative staging, its re-creation in color of the pageantry of Court and Commons, the splendor of regal parades and grim squalor of the battlefield, of Gordon's death at Khartoum, the Light Brigade charge at Balaclava and the domestic life at Balmoral, Windsor, Osborne and the other Royal palaces, all photographed on the actual locations, with its intimately personal picturing of the great ones of the Victoria era, is an achievement.

But it is the human quality which enlivens it, the inspiring impression of Victoria's simplicity and greatness, the devotion to Albert, and the family life which lay behind the grey turrets of Windsor and the railings of Buckingham Palace, which should touch the ordinary picture-goer's heart.

"Sixty Glorious Years" is epiclike, but in so wide a subject that presumably is to be pardoned, and Anna Neagle's restraint and ease, mastery of movement and flawless make-up infuse a personal unity. The later passages of "Sixty Glorious Years" are the film's most moving moments.

"He's in love with her!"

"Love?" exclaimed Janet with a cynical laugh. "Now where have I heard that word before?"

Her mother flinched. "I don't like to hear you leer at the eternal verities, Janet. It's Gordon who has distinguished you, he isn't worth it."

"It isn't only Gordon," said Janet, blinking her eyes to drive back the tears. "It's a combination of everything." She smiled uncertainly. "Perhaps it's good for me to have my head pulled down out of the clouds."

"No!" her mother protested. "It's a lovely head, and it was made to brush the stars."

That was before Berenice and Bill came in just as the others were sitting down to the table. "Darlings," exclaimed Anne, "how did you know I was waiting for you. You haven't eaten, I hope."

"I'm not hungry," said Bill with a dull flush.

Anne noticed that Berenice ignored her remark quite as if he had not spoken. "Are you sure you have enough to go around?" she asked her mother.

Anne laughed. She and Janet were scurrying about setting extra places.

"Bill's had another salary cut," said Berenice. "We thought we'd have to give up the apartment and I was sick, and all my friends said it was a shame. So May Shelton called up Guy and he said he could use me as a file clerk or something in his office. The salary isn't large but it's more than Bill's cut and after all, I'd nearly finished my business course when I stopped to get married."

A dark flush crept to the roots of Bill's black hair. "I think a wife ought to be willing to make the best of her husband's earnings. I suppose that's what it meant when we were through all that for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer stuff."

Berenice glared at him. "You've always thought Mother perfect, and she works."

Anne winced. "I've been compelled to," she said.

The telephone rang and Janet jumped up to answer. "It's for you, Jim," she said.

Jim went into the hall and picked up the receiver. "That you, Phillips?" he inquired. "I have a message for you from Miss Sanders."

Jim's hand tightened on the edge of the telephone stand. "All right," he said. "Fire."

"She has decided to join her father for a cruise on his yacht."

Jim's heart felt like an exposed nerve. "So what?"

"We're leaving at midnight for New Orleans. I'm invited to go along."

"Think of that!" said Jim with a bleak laugh. "It seems she owes you for a golf lesson. You can send the bill to me."

"And you can step to hell," said Jim, hanging up the receiver.

He was scowling when he returned to the table. Something in the set of his lips forbade questions as he jerked out his chair and sat down again.

July that year ran true to form. Torrid days with pavements sticky under the glaring sun were followed by sultry nights when the leaves on the trees hung motionless.

Jack McCall returned to his duties at the golf club and Jim went back to his regular routine in Judge Hatch-cote's office. Apparently Jim was the same as he had ever been—conscientious, steady, level-headed. He worked nearly every night, studying contented after she had dined each evening he romped with Danny. Later Jim drove Cathy over to the night club. Sometimes he stayed at the office late enough to bring her home. If he had suffered a wound he said nothing. Only his mother's eyes could have detected the faint lines that lightened about Jim's mouth and even she could not be certain of his unhappiness.

"Love!" exclaimed Janet with a cynical laugh.

In the same fashion Anne had no adequate excuse for her anxiety in regard to Berenice. She seemed more contented after she began working in Guy Shelton's office. Her mother thought it a good thing for Berenice to have less time to play around with her idle and sophisticated friends and Anne was positive that was why Bill had yielded the point.

To Janet also those four weeks had a sinister quality, like the dead calm preceding a hurricane. Nevertheless, the work on Tony Ryan's house was progressing apace.

Mr. Busby was a short, stocky middle-aged man and a fine workman. She was self-conscious the first afternoon she reported to Mr. Busby at the Radcliffe house.

"As near as I can make out, you're the court of last resort," he said. "If there's any doubt in my mind about how to go ahead I'm to trust your memory."

He took it for granted that she would be on hand every afternoon from two to five.

Janet was eager to know if their employer was pleased so far as they had gone, but Mr. Busby volunteered no information and, in view of Tony Ryan's attitude toward her, Janet was determined to betray no interest in the man. He never came near the Radcliffe place while she was there. Janet thought she understood the pointed way in which she was being ignored. Priscilla was a jealous goddess. She demanded undivided attention, and although during July Janet avoided her old crowd, she did from time to time run into one of them on the street. The absorbing topic of their conversation was Priscilla Leigh's crush on Tony Ryan.

She was startled one afternoon on starting out the great bay window of the master bedroom, to discover a young colored man busily engaged in removing the barbed wire which for years had replaced the wide gate between the big house and the cotton fields behind it.

Janet ran down the back stairs and out the rear entrance. "Aren't you making a mistake?" she inquired.

The man paused to wipe the sweat of his brow with his sleeve and smiled, shifting his feet.

"No'n, Mr. Tony ordered me to get this wire out of the way. He say he done sick and tired muggin' leaf ever 'till he want to go over to his farm. He done bought all de land dis way and dat."

He gestured vaguely in a circle which took in both cotton fields and woods to the east and south.

"Mr. Tony low he going to have the fine stock farm in dis here state," announced the small darky with a broad smile, "and I ain't never known him to make a mess of no thing he started. I'm Deka, Miss. Maybe Mr. Tony done told you about me."

She shook her head. "I'm merely an employee here."

"I was a jockey, Miss. before I got jammed at the quarter and cracked my ribs. I grewed up in Kentucky and I don't know nothing 'cept horses but you can't ride no races with a bum foot. I guess I'd have starved right on the sidewalks of New York if I hadn't run across Mr. Tony."

He glanced over his shoulder to the rambling farmhouse which stood on the slope of hill where the fields met the woods. Janet frowned. A couple of men were sitting on a scaffolding at the side, lavishly applying whitewash.

"Dat's Rufe and the Earl of Jersey," volunteered Deka.

One afternoon Janet discovered more activity near the rear wall of the estate, and when she strolled down to investigate she found a large muscular man engaged in painting the new plank gates while a small, dainty man in worn tweeds directed proceedings.

"How do you do, Miss Phillippe?" he murmured. He had an impeccable British accent and a monocle and one of the thirdest and most civilized faces she had ever seen.

"Pleasing, Miss," mumbled the man astride the gate.

Again Janet started.

"Don't mind Rufe," said the little Englishman quietly. "I remember when he was a superb physical specimen. Now he's a little bit of a mental wreck, but quite harmless. I recall when Rufe could scarcely force his way through his admirers. Tony Ryan came across Rufe four years ago in the breadline. Since then Rufe has fared very well."

Janet was unreasonably exasperated to discover that a man in whom she was determined to see no good had, it would appear, at least one saving grace.

"Am I supposed to deduce that Tony Ryan is an inconspicuous Santa Claus, or what?" she demanded.

The Englishman shrugged his narrow shoulders. "In spite of Tony's modest efforts to elude the allegation, wouldn't you say it takes a somewhat altruistic nature to invest in a farm and a farmhouse in order to provide a home and a decent livelihood for seven human beings who are to a degree human wreckage?"

"Modest is one word I never connected with Mr. Ryan," was Janet's acid comment.

The Englishman removed his monocle and then absently replaced it. "Tony has been spoiling you eh, what?"

Janet laughed. "It was undoubtedly you to whom Deka referred as the Earl of Jersey."

"Right! I no longer recollect who first called me the Earl of Jersey but it was an attempt at wit I've never lived down. I've become so accustomed to the name, in fact, I answer to no other. I am, don't you know, a cook."

"A cook?"

"Rather," murmured the Earl of Jersey in his disabused and impetuous manner. "I came from the country sixteen years ago by invitation to play polo on Long Island. Unfortunately, I have a regrettable habit every so often of going completely blotto. I am what is commonly called a perennial drunkard."

"Oh."

"At intervals I am distinctly not myself. More than one of those intervals occurred when as a polo player I was expected to do the bright and shining for my side. After I had tumbled over several horses in a quite disgraceful fashion, no more American millionaires turned up who cared to ask me on house parties with free access to mounts, at cetera. At the same time and for the same reason my family decided to wash their hands of me. Finding myself cut off from the wherewithal it became imperative for me to unearth some means of earning my daily bread."

"Economically my only hope was that I might be worth a salary as tutor to the children of the very rich. However, although even in my cups I can be relied upon to act the perfect English gentleman, I am not precisely an edifying model for tender youth. Consequently as a tutor I soon disappeared from the scene. I was, as it happened, quietly starving to death when I realized that a cook can always eat. For years I've been working in one another's greasy spoon restaurant, mostly in Hoboken or other New Jersey ports."

"You mean to infer that he is running the farm as a home for human derelicts, yourself included?" asked Janet slowly.

"Right!" said the Earl of Jersey.

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

FOOD HINTS

Did you know that the tempting-looking "heart" of a young green cabbage is of lower food value than the outside leaves?

That is one of the items of information handed on by the Health League of Canada, in connection with the League's campaign to raise the standards of health and efficiency in Canada.

Moreover, says the Health League of Canada, since some of the value of cabbage—vitamins and minerals—are lost in boiling, cabbage salad is more nutritious than cooked cabbage.

It is pointed out, too, that price has little to do with the food value of vegetables. Brussels sprouts may cost three times as much as the humble cabbage, but they are not one bit more nutritious. Canned vegetables, though they are put up in three grades, fancy, choice and standard, are of equal value whatever the grade.

And here is a hint as to the cheapest way of obtaining tomato juice, without which lunch or dinner is not complete for a great many people: buy the lowest priced grade of canned tomatoes, says the Health League of Canada, and strain off the juice. The residue may be combined with other foods or used in soups.

One other suggestion: Don't use soda to preserve the color in cooking green vegetables. Not only is it unnecessary if the lid is left off the pot, but it destroys the valuable vitamin C, says the Health League.

The Health League has published a new leaflet on Nutrition called, "How to Eat for Health and Victory." It will be sent free of charge to any citizen.

The Health League also suggests that "Food and War," a new booklet issued by the Canadian Medical Association is a valuable book for housewives to have.

Vacation time will soon be here. Don't start on your holiday without a full coverage car policy. Beauty for YOU

The Secrets of Good Looks

by Barbara Lynn

FOOT CARE!

Tired, aching feet take half the joy from life. They cause distress and suffering and they bring time to one's feet.

When you suffer from tired feet, this treatment will bring relief and renewed zest for life. Soak them in very hot water in which you've added bath salts or ordinary salt (a handful). Dry with a soft towel, then massage with warm olive oil. Follow up by rubbing the soles with methylated spirits, finally dusting with talcum.

If you have weak or fallen arches, and even if you haven't try this exercise: Place your feet together, lean far back on your heels and bring your toes up as much as you can. Then rise up on your toes instead. Do this for a few minutes each day. This exercise stimulates the circulation in your feet.

Do you suffer from cramped toes or corns? The first essential is to wear proper-fitting footwear. Many girls and women wear shoes that are too small or too short—never sacrifice comfort for a temporary (and deceptive) neatness. If you already suffer from corns, the easiest way to eradicate them is to use a good two-way corn plaster which ends pain instantly by relieving pressure, while the medicated pad quickly loosens the corn so that it comes right out—root and all.

Write to me for confidential advice, enclosing four one-cent stamps for my booklet on Beauty Care. Address: Miss Barbara Lynn, Box 75, Station B, Montreal, Que.

The annual plowing match, under the auspices of the A.A. will be held on Saturday, June 22nd, at the George Reid farm. Plowing to start at 10 p.m. Good prizes. Dynamometer tests with different machines. Speakers on topics of interest to farmers. Send your entries by June 21st to R. C. Greer, Wainwright.

With an Electric Range there is no combustion. Therefore no products of combustion spread through your kitchen and home soiling walls, drapes, and furniture. Your home stays clean always. It's cooler, too, because Electric Ranges are insulated to prevent radiation of cooking heat. And, in actual cooking, there is no waste or spoilage. Automatic controls give you exact cooking temperatures and times. You get full-flavored meals in less time, with less effort, and at surprisingly little cost.

COOK ELECTRICALLY

The Modern Way to Carefree Days

For those who require their ranges to heat their kitchens in the wintertime, there are Combination Coal-Electric Ranges now available at their dealer's.

In conjunction with an Electric Range, an installation to give a constant supply of Hot Water at Special Low Rates can be obtained.

cover with waxed paper, press cover tightly down over paper, and pack in equal parts ice and salt for 3 to 4 hours. Makes 3 quarts.
Blackberry-Strawberry Jelly
4 cups (2 lbs.) berry juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
8 cups (3 1/2 lbs.) sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin.
To prepare juice, crush thoroughly or grind about 3 quarts fully ripe berries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Squeeze and strain juice from 1 medium lemon. Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hot test fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1/2 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about 12 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Cherry Rolls

2 cups pitted and drained red cherries, fresh or canned
1/2 cup cherry juice
1 cup sugar
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
2-3 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted butter

Mix cherries, juice and sugar, and let stand about 10 minutes, drain and reserve sweetened juice. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and stir again. Cut in the shortening. Add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until the mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on floured board and knead 30 seconds; roll 1/4 inch thick. Cover with cherries. Roll as for jelly roll. Moisten edge and press against roll. Cut in 1 1/2 inch slices. Place in greased pan, cut-side down; brush with butter and pour 1/4 cup sweetened cherry juice over slices. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 30 minutes, basting at 10 minute intervals with remaining juice. Serve hot with whipped cream, if desired. Serves 6.

Economy Chocolate Ice Cream

3 squares unsweetened chocolate
1-3 cups sweetened condensed milk
1 cup water
1/4 teaspoon salt

2 cups top milk or thin cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add condensed milk and blend; then add water gradually, stirring constantly. Remove from boiling water, add salt, then cream and vanilla. Strain into freezer and freeze until stiff, using 8 parts ice to 1 part salt. Remove dasher and cover tightly; re-pack in 4 parts ice to 1 part salt. Makes about 1 1/4 quarts ice cream.

Delicious Gooseberry Pie
4 cups prepared gooseberries
2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 recipe pie crust

Remove stem and blossom end from gooseberries, wash thoroughly and cut in halves. Add tapioca, sugar, salt, orange rind and butter and let stand 15 minutes. Line a 9-inch pie plate with 1/4 of pastry rolled 1/4 inch thick. Fill with gooseberry mixture. Moisten edge of pastry with cold water and adjust top crust, cutting several slits to permit escape of steam. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 15 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350° F.) and bake 30 minutes longer, or until filling is cooked.

Tamale Pie

(A one-dish meal)
1 cup cooked, dried Lima beans
1 pound cooked ground beef
1/2 pound cooked ground pork
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 cup ripe olives, pitted
2 cups raisins
2 cups milk
1/2 cup cornmeal
1/2 teaspoon salt
Mix ingredients in order given, turn into a buttered baking pan and bake about 1 hour in a moderate oven (350° F.).

Lima Croquettes

2 cups cooked, dried Lima beans
1 tablespoon tomato catsup
1/4 teaspoon powdered sage
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup cream
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning
Rub Lima beans through a coarse strainer. Add crumbs, cream, salt, pepper, sage and egg. Shape in the form of small cylinders. Roll in crumbs, dip in 1 egg beaten with 2 tablespoons cold water and again roll in crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat (350° F.) until brown, then drain on soft paper. Place on serving plate and garnish with rings of fried apple.

Hints on Fashion Among New Greens

Bottle, poison, frosted and mint are some of the greens seen in town and in the woods this season. Deep green printed in pale to match the coat is the combination for this ensemble.

The dress is a sheer crepe, tucked of bodice and pleated of skirt, buttoning in back. The coat is of a thick homespun cotton which you'll find a good vacation item.

The World of Wheat

H. G. L. Strange,
Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

The Canadian Seed Growers' Association has just held its thirty-sixth annual convention. Seed grower delegates, representing the 3,000 members, came from every province in Canada, and for three days discussed ways and means of making quantities of high quality true-to-type seeds available to farmers, at reasonable prices, so that Canadian field crops could be improved.

The beginnings of the Association date from 1899, and spring from the vision of the late Dr. James W. Robertson, then Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture—a great man if ever there was one. In later years, looking back on the work that had been done by seed growers, Dr. Robertson remarked:

"Many thousands more men now recognize that seed does not merely mean grain but that seed means a contained life. It means the quality and power of the contained life, which gives the plant, rising from the seed, commensurate power to overcome obstacles, garnering from air, sun and soil, strength and beauty and wealth for us. This is seed grain—grain with the capacity to perform that function for us. The man who has studied seed, and has obtained an insight into the meanings of life, will behave in all relationships in a wiser and nobler way."

Following factors have tended to raise prices: A serious food shortage is reported in Belgium—Wheat seedling in the Argentine is being retarded by excessive rains—Extensive grasshopper damage is southwestern Saskatchewan—Searle Grain moisture report No. 10 shows a decline of 2 per cent for week ending June 26th.

Following factors have tended to lower prices: Harvesting has commenced in parts of U.S. winter wheat belt—Spring grains in the Balkans are now making satisfactory progress—Harvesting of wheat in Italy has begun—A harvest of 4 1/2 billion bushels of all grains (wheat, oats, barley, corn and rye) is estimated in the U.S. for 1940.

THE DIAL REVIEW by Walter Davies

"Uncle Jim's Question Box", currently heard from CJCA on Tuesday nights, switches to Wednesdays beginning July 10. Listeners submitting questions get $2.00. Surest winners are those in rhyme or some other unusual style.

Hope none of you is missing the Music Hall because of the time change. Bing, Bob, Trotter, Carpenter et al entertain one hour earlier on Thursdays now. You can catch them from CJCA at 6.00 p.m. Better do all the listening you can, too, because Bob and Bing usually vacation around this time of year and you'll be missing one or the other of them soon!

If you collect vital statistics, here's the dope on Florence Weston of "The Man I Married" broadcast. Monday to Friday from CJCA. She's 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighs 118 pounds. She's not active but won't drown when she goes swimming. As a hobby plays milliner for her friends. First job in radio—doing the scream sequence on a March of Time show.

The Home Town Boys, sponsored by leading Alberta weekly papers, are busy boys these days. They're playing dance music for holidayers at Mameo Beach and commuting to the city on Thursdays for their 10.00 p.m. newspaper show.

Britain Speaks!
A new series of talks creating a good deal of discussion is "Britain Speaks" by Vernon Bartlett. This series is heard at 8.15 Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, replacing "Light Up and Listen," which moves to 8.30 p.m. daily. The new arrangement makes an excellent schedule: National news from 8 to 8.15, a news commentary direct from London from 8.15 to 8.30, followed by "Light Up and Listen", light, well-produced music and comedy.

Angles on the War.
July 12, 7.30 p.m., CJCA listeners will hear the second in a series of interviews on the war and how it affects Canadians of different racial origins. This week Rabbi Solomon Frank will be interviewed by Alastair Stewart on the Jewish problem and point of view.

Sport Shorts.
Sport fans following the observations of Clary Bettell, the Old Observer, will be glad to learn he's back on the air from CJCA Saturdays 4.00 p.m.

There'll Always Be An England!
The daily rendition of that good old song by "The Happy Gang" has caught the fancy of CJCA listeners, and studio-workers as well. Even the most phlegmatic control man sings lustily in unison when the Happy Gang leads the way!
